After the most successful engagement of any theatrical attraction in New York, "The Girl from Rectors," which had a run of over three hundred nights, will be seen at the opera house on next Saturday night. The work is that of Paul M. Potter, who acquired world-wide fame through the authorship of "Trilby." This newest offering of the gifted writer is distinctly of New York flavor. The story, in the main, is woven about a young society woman of Battle Creek, Michigan, who spends a great deal of her time in the metropolis in quest of pleasure and recreation. When she is at her home, her spare moments are taken up in charitable work, and as the scene shifts from the West to the East, so do the young woman's ideas. She finally earns the sobriquet of "The Girl from Rectors," and the audience is kept in a continual uproar while the entanglements follow. In its three-hour-dread-night run at Weber's music hall, every previous record was broken there.

GREAT DEMAND THIS SPRING FOR TENEMENTS, especially in south and easterly sections of the city, also nearly all houses built for homes the past year were built in this section of the city. I have lots on many desirable streets and mostly in eastern section of city, on Hill St., Ayer St., Kirk St., Quarry, Circle, Camp, Tremont, East, Currier, Grandview, Long St., any of which I will sell at as favorable prices, or more favorable than equally as desirable lots can be had elsewhere. If you were to buy a cow you would usually see a party who had many for sale, rather than buy a man's only cow. Take a walk during the next day or two, visiting above streets. Notice they are our best streets and lots well elevated. No fear of surface water or floods.
